

A diagram of a lighthouse with a red horizontal line representing the light beam reaching the horizon. The lighthouse is shown in cross-section, with the light source at the top. The red line is tangent to the horizon, illustrating the concept of the horizon being the limit of visibility for a light source at a certain height.

Date of survey	November 2020
CAD file name	TW_4thFloor plans.dwg
Checked	EVM